Meeting to Be Open To Interested Persons

Interested citizens, along with representatives of local news media may attend the joint meeting of the Mayor and Sedalia City Council and members of the Sedalia Board of Public Works tonight in the City Council Chambers at 7 o'clock.

Mayor Abe Silverman, who called the meeting on quest of the Council, to discuss the water rate increase proposed by the Board of Public Works, said this morning that, "I can see no reason why public-minded citizens should not attend. They will be welcomed."

Two Negroes Delayed In School Entry

Stay Is Granted To Permit Appeal In Higher Court

ATLANTA (AP)—A federal judge who ordered two Negroes admitted to the all-white University of Georgia granted a stay today to permit an appeal to a higher court.

The action by Judge W. A. Bootle came as Miss Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, were at the university in Athens making final arrangements to enter the 175-year-old institution.

The stay order will delay their enrollment with 7,400 white students until the opening of the spring quarter late in March.

It gives the segregation-minded Georgia Legislature, which opened a 40-day session today, a chance to strike out provisions of laws banning the use of state funds in operation of an integrated college.

The more than 250 legislators whooped and hollered for several minutes when word of Bootle's stay action reached the legislative halls.

"Judge Bootle's stay takes off the immediate pressure," said Frank S. Twitty, House floor leader. "It gives the legislature time to study and think, and act judiciously."

At Athens, 60 miles east of Atlanta, Miss Hunter and Holmes were in the process of being enrolled when Bootle's delay order came.

Civil War's Centennial Underway

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A nation once torn asunder by a Civil War officially opened the 100th anniversary observance of that tragic era Sunday with solemn pageantry and prayer.

One theme was dominant in the ceremonies: the nation had been able to reunite itself after the war.

Both North and South paid tribute to the commanding generals of the rival armies that battled for four long years in the country's costliest conflict until World War II.

Troops in full dress uniform stood under chilly, leaden skies in New York City while wreaths were laid in honor of the Northern commander, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, at his tomb on the bank of the Hudson River.

The crusty old general's grandson, Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant III, chairman of the National Civil War Centennial Commission, placed the first of four wreaths in front of the tomb.

"The most wonderful part of Civil War," he said, "was that the members of the two armies were afterward able to work together to make this great nation what it is today."

Above him inscribed in granite were his grandfather's words: "Let us have peace."

The U.S. Military Academy Band played "America the Beautiful" while other wreaths were placed at the tomb in behalf of the nation the state of New York the city and the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, an organization of descendants of Union army officers.

He Addresses Group

Aging Conference Opens At Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower urged delegates to the White House conference on aging today to develop every opinion "no matter how bitterly opposed" in an effort to provide goals for the country.

In a brief welcoming address to the conference of 2,500 delegates in Constitution Hall, the President said that is what he understands conferences are for.

He said he hoped the four-day deliberations would bring out material on problems of the aging that Congress can use in its deliberations.

He thus recognized a controversy that was raging even before the conference opened — how to finance medical care for the aged.

The Chief Executive, 70, and about to retire from the White House job, laughingly said that he did not want "to get too definite about this aged business."

He said he was not going to express his own views, because they already are well-known, "and besides I'm not a delegate."

I applied the conference," the President said, and added he felt Congress did a good thing in asking him to call it.

Apparently top government officials were attempting to ease controversy over charges — made and denied — that the conference has been stacked by the American Medical Association, insurance and business groups against a program of medical care for the aged tied to the Social Security program.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming, in his opening remarks, urged the delegates to act, regardless of the controversial character of certain programs, in such a way that this disagreement "will not result in the nation finding itself on dead center."

Fourteen convicts engineered the attempted break, state troopers said. The 14 opened the cell doors of hundreds of other prisoners in the maximum security block, apparently in a move to create confusion, but only 18 others left their cells.

The 14 surrendered meekly in a prison garage, giving up nine hostages. One of the hostages had been wounded. Four of the convicts were in guard uniforms.

The disturbance started shortly before 8 p.m. Warden W.J. Banmiller said guard Donald Carr, 40, allowed one prisoner to enter another's cell to return a guitar.

Both jumped Carr, who was stabbed in the left shoulder. He dropped his keys and ran.

The two convicts then ran to the cell block door, unlocked it, overpowered guard Lt. William Righter, 59, and began unlocking all doors in the maximum security cellblocks. Righter suffered a superficial knife cut in the abdomen and was taken as hostage.

The robbery of the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marlin, Route 2, Nelson, near Postal, Saturday afternoon, was solved within 12 hours and arrests of two of the intruders was completed within 24 hours. Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Deputy Jack Couts working with Trooper William Southwick of the Highway Patrol, conducted the investigation and arrests.

Fairfax and Couts went to the Marlin home Saturday afternoon and made a check of the robbery. Taken was between $60 and $80 in money and a .22-caliber pistol. They then went to Marshall Junction and made an investigation there and contacted the Saline County Sheriff's office.

About 6 o'clock Fairfax received a call of a wreck on County Road CC and with Trooper Southwick went to Hughesville to investigate the complaint made by W. T. Grimes. They learned that about 3 o'clock in the afternoon a 1952 Ford tudor sedan containing three subjects had struck the wrecker of Grimes, and overturned. The accident occurred about six miles west of Highway 65.

The car was demolished and the three occupants escaped injury. Grimes pulled the wrecked vehicle to Hughesville. A Grimes employee brought the three to Sedalia and they took a train to Kansas City. One of the three

Gov. Dalton to Seek Strict Law Enforcement In State

Inauguration Parade Seen By Thousands

Blair and Dalton Ride Parade Route In a Convertible

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A colorful parade of snappy military and musical units, top-hatted dignitaries, honorary colonels and with a Missouri mule bringing up the rear, touched off inaugural ceremonies here today.

The parade moved through Jefferson City streets and wound around the capitol as thousands turned out in brisk, bright winter sunshine.

Incoming Gov. John M. Dalton, riding in an open convertible with outgoing Gov. James T. Blair, seemed relaxed and at ease as he frequently doffed his black, top hat, waved and smiled at the crowds.

Following Dalton and Blair in the next car were their wives. Mrs. Dalton, the state's new first lady, wore a brightly-colored hat. Then came other new state officials.

The honored dignitaries mounted a covered reviewing stand, overlooking the Missouri River on the north side of the capitol. There they were joined by former President Harry S. Truman.

But Truman, who once took a dim view of the fact President Eisenhower shelved the traditional top hat for a homburg at Eisenhower's inauguration in 1953, wore an ordinary grey hat today.

Thomas F. Eagleton, 31-year-old new attorney general, didn't observe the top hat tradition either. He was bareheaded.

"I was forced to wear a hat a half-size or so too small all during boot camp while I was in the Navy and I haven't worn one since," explained Eagleton.

An air-force engine heater piped hot air to the reviewing stand, helping the officials keep their feet warm.

High stepping drum majorettes, attired in brief costumes didn't seem to mind the nippy air as they pranced along at the head of their units.

BULLETIN

HARRISONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Eight persons, two women and six children, were killed today when their car was struck by a Missouri Pacific train a mile west of Strasburg.

The Missouri Highway Patrol reported that four of the victims had been identified as Mrs. Mildred Irene Ferris, 27, Holden, Mo., and her three children, John O. Ferris, 5; Donna Irene, 4 and Sharon Kay, 18 months.

The patrol said the other four victims, a woman, two girls and a boy had not been identified.

The accident took place on a side road just off M-58. Trainmen said it appeared the car pulled onto the tracks and stopped.

Arrest Four In Property Destruction

Three men held overnight in the Sedalia City jail in connection with a break-in reported by Deputy Virgil Morris at the County jail were released Monday morning, and a fourth man was found guilty of the destruction of property.

Morris called City police at 12:25 a.m. Monday, reporting that some boys were beating on his car, parked near the County jail. He reported the boys ran west on Third.

Within a few minutes the police had arrested the four men. They were Charles Edward Lawson, 21, 521 East 26th; Daniel Lavoyd Keltner, 17, 623 East Tenth; Robert Eugene Clark, 20, 1804 South Prospect, and Bobby Dean Comfort, 518 North Quincy.

Comfort was convicted of the destruction of a gum machine in front of the Third National Bank. The others were released when Morris declined to prosecute.

Comfort was held for military authorities from Fort Leonard Wood.

DeGaulle Program Wins Voters Nod

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian program won the approval of 56.1 per cent of France's voters Sunday, short of the 65 per cent the president reportedly hoped for.

Although abstentions cut the "yes" vote below the endorsement De Gaulle sought, there was every indication the president would consider the outcome in the three-day referendum as a mandate to push ahead with his program.

De Gaulle has promised more self-government at once for the North African territory and its Moslem majority and a self-determination referendum when the 6-year-old nationalist rebellion is ended.

When counting in Algeria was halted for the night, 67.6 per cent of the votes cast were in favor of De Gaulle's program, but abstentions — the result of a boycott urged by both diehard French colonialists and the nationalist rebels — were running as high as 40 per cent in some of the territory's 13 departments. The vote went against De Gaulle in only one department—Oran, a hotbed of colonialism and rebel nationalism as well.

De Gaulle had said he would consider an abstention as a vote against him and hinted he would resign if he did not get a solid endorsement. But Premier Michel Debre in a midnight TV appearance claimed a great victory for the government and said exultantly, "What a feeling of rallying, unity and strength the nation has shown, rising above those who work to divide."

The officers joined with the Jefferson City police in handling traffic in the Capitol City during the inauguration parade and ceremonies.

Views Heard Following His Inauguration

High Ethical Standards Are Of Concern To Him

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton served notice as soon as he was inaugurated today his administration would be geared to strict law enforcement and high ethical standards.

The new governor made his views known in a brief speech prepared for the inaugural ceremonies in the Capitol rotunda. He said it would set the tone for detailed policies to be outlined later.

Dalton conceded "Missouri's jerry-built tax structure requires careful examination and treatment" and said his fiscal recommendations would come in a special budget message next week. He gave this hint of his revenue plans:

"We will require additional income if we are to make necessary expansions in our services and I strongly feel that these increases should be levied on non-essentials and not on the necessities of life."

Dalton repeated his campaign pledge of "good government, vigorous and impartial law enforcement and fair treatment for all."

He said a formal ethical code is needed for state officials.

"We must insure that penalties are established against the possibility of unfaithful and unscrupulous behavior in office because conflict of interests cannot be tolerated at any level of government."

The governor set these rules of conduct for state officials:

"High ethical standards will be observed in all official acts during the forthcoming administration. Missouri's regulatory bodies and all officials will be concerned only with the public welfare and the public interest."

"You may rest assured that officials will not be permitted to accept gifts, gratuities or favors that will compromise their ability to render honest and equitable decisions."

The semi-official newspaper Revolution in banner headlines said a "Yankee aircraft carrier" had arrived at Guantanamo Bay, the big U.S. naval base in eastern Cuba.

Three Vestrymen Are Elected At Parish Meeting

Gen. John C. McLaughlin, Harold Painter, John C. Wagenknecht and George H. Scruton were elected vestrymen for three years at the annual parish meeting of Calvary Episcopal Church held in Hawkins Hall Sunday evening. They succeeded retiring vestrymen Edward Bates, Dr. Carl Siegel, Henry Salveter and George Dugan Jr.

Holdover vestrymen are: James Atkinson, Robert Gardner, John Talbot, Ed Ferrari, William J. Ramsey, Robert Zink, Dr. Gordon Stauffacher and Gentry Patterson.

Following the parish meeting over which the Rev. William E. Lusk, rector, presided, a reorganization meeting of the vestry was held. Arthur J. Morgan was re-elected treasurer, and Ed Ferrari, re-elected clerk.

At the first Council meeting of the year, on Jan. 3, the Council passed an ordinance limiting the powers of the Board of Public Works in the operation of the Sedalia Water Department in respect to water rate increases, and in respect to the purchase of real estate.

The Council placed a limit of not more than five per cent increase in rates over and above the rates in effect Nov. 1, 1960. According to the ordinance any other rate increase would be made at the Council's discretion.

At the Jan. 3 Council meeting, Councilman E. B. Smith stated, "A joint meeting of the City Council, members of the Water Department, and engineers for Black & Veatch, has been set for Jan. 9."

"The purpose of this meeting is to review the requirements of the Water Department, to verify various operations and to further determine if the increase, now requested, is warranted at this time."

"It is only fair that the public should be informed that it is possible that as a result of the meeting a greater portion of the 35 per cent that is now being requested will have to be granted. If the Council finds this necessary, it will have no alternative other than to grant an additional water rate increase."

On Jan. 6, the Board announced the rate increase will be held in abeyance until sometime after the meeting tonight, and also requested the Mayor invite the press to the meeting.

The Mayor concurred with the Board's request and added that he would also welcome the presence of interested citizens.

E. B. Smith, 507 State Fair Blvd., reported Sunday afternoon that someone had taken the light bulbs off his Christmas tree.

Accidents
One of Virgil Bacon's wreckers and a 1950 Pontiac driven by Riley Pearson, 704 West Pettis, were involved in an accident at Third and Missouri at 10:45 p.m. Saturday.

Larry Gloth, driver of the wrecker, told police that as he was driving home from work the Pontiac hit the bumper of the wrecker, then proceeded on, barely missing an oncoming car. He said he followed the Pontiac to the stop light at Third and Missouri, and held the driver, Pearson, until the police arrived.

Neither vehicle was damaged. The driver of the Pontiac was charged with careless and reckless driving while drinking.

Police Court
Bobby Dean Comfort, 518 North Quincey and Fort Leonard Wood, charged with destruction of property, a gum machine, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two days in jail. The sentence was suspended when he was turned over to Military Police authorities from Fort Leonard Wood.

James Askren, 816 West Third, charged with parking in a loading zone, failed to appear and his $2 bond was ordered forfeited.

H. P. Brockiemann, Cole Camp, charged with parking in a fire lane, failed to appear and his $2 bond was ordered forfeited.

Russell Lee Cooper, Kansas City, charged with careless and reckless driving while drinking, failed to appear and his $75 bond was ordered forfeited.

Dillon Is First

Senate Hearings to Start Wednesday on New Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate hearings on President-elect John F. Kennedy's Cabinet appointments will start Wednesday. First to come under the Senate's "advise and consent" procedure will be Douglas Dillon, Kennedy's choice for secretary of the Treasury.

It was learned Sunday night that the Senate Finance Committee, headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., has set Wednesday morning for a hearing on Dillon, one of two Republicans selected by Kennedy for the Cabinet.

The appointments cannot be sent officially to the Senate until after Jan. 20 when Kennedy takes office. But to speed things up, there's no rule against holding the necessary hearings earlier.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the new majority leader, over the weekend predicted speedy Senate confirmation of Kennedy's Cabinet choices. But he said he expects some of them to be quizzed at length.

Columnists Hear Darndest Things Making the Rounds

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If your wife is looking for a good lazy way to clean out an old clothes closet, tell her just to toss 450 moths in it and shut the door . . . Theoretically the offspring of the moths in a year can eat fabrics equal in weight to a diesel locomotive.

No wonder it's so hard for many of us to see our way clear . . . Some 90 million Americans have the vision problem called astigmatism.

The good old days: In 1834 Delmonico's, later a world-renowned restaurant, printed the first known bill of fare in this country . . . Sample items: Cup of coffee, one cent; soup, two cents; beef stew, four cents; ham and eggs or roast chicken, a dime—and a full meal 12 cents!

Signs of our times: Seen on the back of a truck: I'm driving carefully because "I'm a coward."

Even if you're a film fan, it's an odds-on bet you can't name the first all-talking movie . . . It was "Lights of New York," made in 1928.

Our quotable notables: "One should be either sad or joyful," said playwright Eugene O'Neill. "Contentment is a warm sty for eaters and sleepers."

Geography lesson: "There is a village in Scotland called Peace and Plenty."

Most fires start in homes, but in 1959 fire damaged or destroyed 3,000 churches . . . Fires break out in eight to ten U.S. churches every day.

A footgear manufacturer claims leather treated with a special plastic will enable it to wear five times as long. Now if someone will just develop another plastic that will make children's feet grow five times as slowly, the average parent will feel he can keep the kids in shoes without bankrupting the family.

Mother Nature, not man, invented the first submarine snorkel . . . For untold ages elephants have been able to walk across the bottoms of rivers by thrusting their trunks to the surface and using them as breathing tubes.

Flying theaters: Some airlines are planning to entertain passengers by showing free first-run movies during jet flights . . . As usual, we suppose, the profit will come from the popcorn.

Wisecrack of the week: Comic Jack Wakefield defines a bikini as—the little bit that isn't bare!

Hint to housewives: To help your husband when he starts his usual struggle to fill out his income tax form, why not paint his study in blue and scarlet stripes? . . . It has been found that blue-painted walls quiet violent mental patients, and red walls cheer up severe cases of depression.

Jittery monarch: King Henry II was so nervous he couldn't sit at a table . . . and always ate his meals standing up.

Speaking of food, did you know that some desert people in Africa and Asia still roast and grind locusts and mix them with flour to make bread?

It was Gen. Fowler who observed in winter: "Each snowflake is the soul of one who died without love, or with a song unsung."

Governor Places Two Children In Integrated Class

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. Terry Sanford plan to enroll their two children at an integrated public school here today. They said the presence of one Negro pupil at the Murphy Elementary School, a block and a half from the executive mansion, would not deter them from sending Betsy Sanford, 11, and Terry Sanford Jr., 7, there.

White children who live in the area of the governor's official residence normally would attend the school. The governor said he expects his children to be treated like the children of any other family.

No Radiation Hazard Commission Reports

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission reports that no radiation hazard exists around the national reactor testing station of eastern Idaho where a nuclear reactor accident killed three men last Tuesday.

It was an explosion, presumably caused by a runaway reactor, but not a nuclear explosion which the AEC says is impossible.

But the reactor's breakdown loosed intense radiation inside. The body of one of the three men was still in the reactor building today.

Fleet Units Nearing Cuba On Maneuvers

HAVANA (AP) — U.S. Atlantic fleet units headed toward Guantanamo Bay and the Caribbean today on annual maneuvers certain to draw strong criticism from Fidel Castro's propaganda outlets.

A flotilla of 150 naval units, including the $90-million 45,000-ton supercarrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, three guided missile cruisers and two nuclear submarines, will take part in the Caribbean exercise that starts today and runs until the end of March. A total of 140,000 officers and men will participate.

A Navy spokesman in Puerto Rico said the ships will go in and out of the U. S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay, the last major foothold on Cuban territory, "in the normal run of things."

The Navy stressed that the maneuvers were planned long ago and have no connection with the U.S. break in diplomatic relations with Cuba. But the flotilla is bringing twice as many men and ships to the Caribbean as there were in last year's maneuvers.

And it carried enough fire power, missiles and war planes to give strong support to the Guantanamo base if needed.

The Navy spokesman attributed the increased number of ships and men to the fact that guided missile vessels are taking part for the first time.

The U.S. warships, from every major base on the Atlantic Coast, will be joined by Canadian, British, and Dutch units. U.S. Marines will practice amphibious landings on Vieques Island, 20 miles east of Puerto Rico.

The U.S. fleet movements, labeled "provocative" by the Havana newspaper El Mundo, appeared to offer an excuse for the Castro regime to whip up the invasion hysteria now lagging after 10 days of warnings. The Navy show of strength was the only "enemy invasion" that Castro could point to despite his complaint to the U.N. Security Council that American forces were going to attack him.

Invasion preparations have gone to the extreme of mining the network of major highways leading out of the capital.

But the invasion fever had so died down by Sunday that the radio alert network, embracing 23 standard broadcast frequencies and at least four on the FM band, carried Cuban League baseball games.

Castro's agents arrested 10 more accused terrorists and rounded up suspects throughout Pinar del Rio Province. Military intelligence headquarters announced the smashing of a bomb-making ring in Cotorro, five miles below Havana. It said the ring was linked to the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. The government said the 10 men arrested were led by former Public Works Minister Manuel Ray. Under a new law they are all subject to execution.

Find Skeleton Of Pipe-Smoking Indian in Texas

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The skeleton of a pipe-smoking Indian, termed by a Texas technological college professor as a major archaeological find, was discovered Sunday in a canyon near Lubbock.

Dr. David Kelley, professor of anthropology, estimated the skeleton had been buried 500 to 700 years. Nearby was found a pipe, made of a marble-like stone, with charred tobacco in the bowl.

The hunters, who found the skeleton in a grave burrowed in the side of the canyon, first reported the discovery to the sheriff's office, which closed its file on the case with the notation "no attempt to locate next of kin."

Community Leadership

Viewing the international scene, petty quarrels and personal peevishness in their excesses seem to be overwhelming.

Brutality and viciousness is portrayed almost daily by small groups and mobs on the rampage in many parts of the globe. This repugnant behavior so often illustrated as perpetrated by teen agers is not confined to them alone. Adults, whipped into frenzy by master planners of discontent, are just as guilty as youth groups. Seeking to preserve economic security for themselves they pull down about their heads all the props of the very structure they want to preserve.

These violent aberrations of humanity seem so far away to Central Missourians who bask in the peace of the prairies. But this peace is only a matter of degree.

We have our limitations of neighborliness when it comes to politics, business, lodge, social and even church affairs. Disagreements, blowing off steam in moderation may be excused, but too often these verbal upheavals are carried to extremes that hurt others just as painfully as if a rock had been bounced off their heads.

Sedalia is not immune to the pettiness of the little-thinking men who drool over disunity and are usually on the sidelines urging, "let's you and him fight."

There is nothing so inviting to stagnation of community progress in Sedalia as those individuals who persistently impede efforts of divergent groups to sit down together and talk things out in a tolerant manner without recourse to personal vilification.

We commend City Council and the Board of Public Works for their decision to follow the positive instead of the negative procedure of reconciling their differences over the proposed water rate increase.

Constructive thinking on all such matters of public concern places the participants in the role of community leadership. Without it local government reverts to inertness and becomes a victim of the very confusion so prevalent elsewhere which we deplore.

White House Conference On Aging

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Some 2,700 delegates meet in Washington today (Jan. 9) to discuss one of the most important questions of modern civilization—the problem of elderly citizens. What the public doesn't know, however, is that about 40 per cent of the delegates to the "White House Conference on Aging" have been carefully picked to oppose the Kennedy plan for medical aid to the aged.

They were picked thanks to a quiet and skillful campaign by the American Medical Association, which battled against the Forand bill at the last session of Congress and which Harry Truman describes as the biggest trick in the world.

"The AMA," said Truman, "has always been against anything for the welfare and benefit of ordinary people."

Apparently the AMA has slipped a bit from the high rank Truman gave it, for records on file with the clerk of the House of Representatives show that AMA now ranks only sixth in spending money for lobbying. It used to rank first. During the first half of 1960, the doctors ranked a bit below the Brotherhood of Teamsters, the AFL-CIO, the Federation of Post Office Clerks, the teachers, and the Farm Bureau in spending money to lobby with Congress.

Recently, however, the American Medical Association has voted to increase the dues of doctors to the extent of $2,800,000, which will give the AMA about $18,000,000 yearly. Part of this, according to an AMA report, has been earmarked for "expansion by the communications division of the program of faithfully portraying the image of the American Medical Association."

The Doctors' Trade Union

This column many times has paid tribute to the great contribution of the medical profession to American civilization. It has urged that because of the long years of study necessary to become a doctor, physicians be given personal tax depreciation allowances. However, when the medical profession gets into the lobbying business along with the Teamsters, the AFL-CIO, and others, the public has a right to read the record of the AMA's activities.

The manner in which the AMA went about stacking the delegates to the "White House Conference on Aging" is told by F. J. L. Blasingame, AMA executive vice president. His strategy was to keep social workers from being appointed delegates, replace them with insurance executives, businessmen, and doctors who would oppose Kennedy's medical aid for the elderly.

"The AMA field service division," said Blasingame, "worked with the states in getting physicians' representation on the governors' committees on aging, which have the responsibility of developing statements to be presented to the White House conference."

"The states were also encouraged to work with the insurance industry, Chambers of Commerce, and like groups, to likewise obtain representative delegates. . . . This met with an excellent degree of success, in spite of the fact that social and welfare workers immediately and spontaneously requested that they be designated among the state delegates."

The AMA has also been grooming America's onetime sweetheart, Mary Pickford, more recently called the "Sweetheart of the Medical Profession," to help propagandize the doctors' viewpoint. One AMA press release quoted the sweetheart of the doctors as saying: "As worthy as some politicians are, I wouldn't want them operating on me."

Rev. Henry Hope, Jr., Jackson, Miss.—The Christian Brothers, a Catholic organization in California which produces wine and brandy, does pay taxes. They are not tax-exempt. They have, however, protested their taxes, though two years ago they made an agreement with Internal Revenue for the payment of $489,000 in back taxes. After making the agreement they paid this amount under protest and filed suit in the U.S. District Court of California for the return of same. Internal Revenue was provoked at what it believed to be a backtracking on an agreement, and promptly filed another claim for $1,350,000 of back taxes, penalties, and interest. Both suits are now pending in the U.S. District Court in San Francisco. The Christian Brothers' suit is under the name of DeLaSalle Institute.

Civil War Centennial

The re-enactment of the firing on Fort Sumter, the shot that started the war between the states, takes place in Charleston, South Carolina, on January 9, 1961. The "Star of the West" flying the Stars and Stripes was fired on by Southern artillerymen at Fort Sumter one hundred years ago.

On December 30, 1860, General Winfield Scott had sought and received orders from President James Buchanan to re-enforce and defend Fort Sumter, in the harbor of Charleston. South Carolina had ten days previously passed its order of secession, with a preliminary action in the First Baptist Church on December 17, 1860.

A replica of the "Star of the West" is anchored in Charleston harbor for visitors to see.

The book stores are flooded with books on the Civil War written from both southern and northern points of view. They make interesting reading for both and especially for historians and authorities on the Civil War. It is fitting that this centennial should be observed and that we be reminded of that time when the nation was divided and also to emphasize the fact that in union there is strength, and that unified strength is in greater need today than ever before. The scars of that war were long in healing, and the sufferings of both sides left hatred and bitterness which must never be fostered even in a centennial commemoration.

Beginning next summer, residents of New York City, recent scene of a blizzard and two catastrophes, will be able to dial a special telephone number and obtain the latest news about emergencies and disasters. Information will concern, for example, what streets are closed or impassable, whether or not schools are open, and facts about other public facilities.

On calm days, the tape-recorded service will deal with train and airline schedules and other items of public interest.

Bounce May Be Taken Out of Mansfield

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democrat's new Senate leader, starts off on a breezy note of optimism. Before the end of this year, or even this month, he may feel a little less bouncy.

Speaking of the Senate—where his Democrats far outnumber the Republicans—Mansfield said: "I look forward to a period of harmony and unity."

The first test of both harmony and unity is coming in a hurry as the Senate gets down to examining and approving the men President-elect John F. Kennedy has chosen for his Cabinet.

Republican Douglas Dillon was scheduled for the first looking over, Wednesday. He was President Eisenhower's undersecretary of state and didn't make Republicans happy by accepting Kennedy's offer to make him secretary of the treasury.

The brilliant Dillon, who always got along with Congress, probably won't have any trouble getting approval. The actual approval, of course, must wait until after Kennedy is sworn in as president Jan. 20.

Between now and then various Senate committees will quiz Kennedy's Cabinet appointees and others he has chosen for key jobs as a preliminary to full Senate votes later.

Mansfield even predicted quick passage of the main parts of Kennedy's "new frontiers" program, with some help from the Republicans. It may turn out he'll need a lot of Republican help.

One of the first Kennedy choices likely to run into some rough going is Chester Bowles, designated for undersecretary of state.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the senate Republican Policy Committee, told the New York Herald Tribune he and others would give Bowles the "closest scrutiny."

The reason: Bridges accuses Bowles of a "lot of double talk" on whether this country should recognize Red China.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Two Sedalia boys have registered at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles: George Carter, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. DeJarnette; and Roger Ayres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mace Ayres. Both boys were outstanding basketball players in Smith-Cotton High school.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan, of 232 South Grand avenue, has sold her residence property at that number to Dr. K. R. Barnum, the consideration being $9,000. Cook and Harned made the sale.

1921

At an election held in the Thornleigh district the following were elected road commissioners: S. E. Harvey, George R. Wilkerson and M. F. Wasson. The election was held pursuant to an order by the county court given as a result of a mandamus suit brought by Lon Durley and George R. Wilkerson against the county court asking that an election be called in that district.

In the Senate, some Southern Democrats have threatened to oppose Kennedy's nomination of Robert C. Weaver, a Negro, as director of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Kennedy had pledged himself to end racial discrimination in government subsidized housing. Weaver, who hardly could do otherwise, since Kennedy picked him, promised to have the same attitude.

Home builders in the South might lose some money if the government sought to withhold funds from construction unless whites and Negroes could live side by side in it.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, Virginia Democrat, announced opposition to Weaver, although he didn't say it was because Weaver is a Negro. Robertson is chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee which will examine Weaver.

The unity which Mansfield sees may in the end prevail but it is unlikely to be harmonious.

The Doctor Says

Have Doctor Seek Cause Of Child's Convulsions

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

The appearance of a convulsion, at birth, is always a cause for grave concern. And justifiably so, since infantile convulsions are almost always manifestations of severe damage to the brain itself.

By the time the child is two years old, the first appearance of a convulsion is a cause for very much less concern. For, at this stage in the youngster's development, the convulsive episode is almost always the response of a normal, but highly sensitive, nervous system to fever or to a disturbance in body chemistry.

The fever is almost always caused by an infecting organism that can be liquidated by treatment with an antibiotic. The chemical disturbance is almost always due to a deficiency of sugar or calcium that can easily be overcome by feeding or injecting the appropriate substance.

So therefore the convulsive episode has no more influence on the child's future development than an electric storm that terrifies momentarily and then passes.

But if you are the parent of a convulsing child, you'll probably want more reassurances than are given in the bare outline you've just read.

You'd want to know how sure your doctor could be that the convulsion, attributed to the fever or the chemical disturbance, was not a manifestation also of an underlying epilepsy. And you'd want to know why, if this possibility existed, it wouldn't be better to prescribe antiepileptic drugs to spare your child the harrowing experience of another convulsive episode.

Here's how you can protect your child and yourselves with the thoughtful co-operation and assistance of your doctor:

Request a tracing of the brain waves (electroencephalogram) to determine definitely whether or not your child is epileptic. The tracing (EEG) is readily obtained without the slightest discomfort or risk to the child.

If the tracing is normal, you may breathe freely though you must bear in mind the possibility that the child, up to the age of five, may still have a convulsive episode at some later time if he suffers a fresh infection.

If the tracing indicates that your child is epileptic, you may take comfort in the experiences of Dr. Samuel Livingston, director of the Epilepsy Clinic at the Johns Hopkins Hospital. After 24 years of study, Dr. Livingston recommends regular daily doses of anticonvulsive drugs for the child with proven epilepsy. At the end of four years of treatment in the case of a boy and slightly longer in the case of the girl who is about to mature, treatment is gradually withdrawn and then wholly discontinued if all is well as it is with the very rare exception.

In this way, as you see, your child will not be unnecessarily treated if there is no reason to administer anticonvulsive drugs; he or she will be given almost certain protection against another seizure if drug treatment is required, and you may rest secure in the belief that your child is safe from harm.

Children Feel the Danger Inherent in Your Hate

MRS. MURIAL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The mother and child remained on the TV screen for several moments. But several moments were time enough. The little boy looked to be about 5 years old.

His mother was one of a group of women bunched together along a New Orleans street to shriek insults at the small, carefully starched Negro girl walking her way to the public school into which the law of this land permits her entrance. As she passed with her escort of U. S. marshals, the mother of the small white boy shook him, yelling, "Go on, tell the little nigger! Tell her you'll never go to school with niggers! Go on, tell her, tell her."

The small white boy did not obey. Instead he turned, and hiding the sight of his mother's snarling face from his eyes, buried his face in her skirt.

I am not employed to comment on these parents' irresponsibility toward our country.

But it is my job to rebuke parental disobedience to law when it is a perilous example to children, and to warn that children can be deeply scarred by the sight of hate in their mothers' faces.

Any mother who has seen her child shrink from her when she screams at a neighbor's dog or blasts a tardy milkman will know that I tell the truth.

The young know many things that we forget. Children know that the hate we express toward the milkman, the neighbor's dog, the little Negro girl can also be expressed toward them.

They know that so long as such violence exists in us, it can turn us in a flash upon them.

They know what the rest of us have to re-learn the hard way: that hate is no respecter of creatures, white or black, but, like the hungry tiger it is, will leap upon any passing prey.

And so they do not feel safe with hating mothers. For this reason I sorrow more for the little white boy who could not bear the sight of his mother's snarling face than I do for the little black girl who did not have to hide her eyes.

We the Women

Let's Dress Fittingly When We're Out in Public

Come next summer men golfers in Memphis, Tennessee, are going to have to cover up their manly chests instead of stripping to the waist on public golf courses in order to get a sun tan.

The man responsible for the coming cover-up is Commissioner James Moore, who says in no uncertain terms: "I think it is indecent exposure when a man gets out on public golf courses without a shirt on. Some men complain about women wearing short shorts to the grocery store, but then they get out in public view playing golf in a swimming suit."

Commissioner Moore already has an answer for the men who protest that playing golf without a shirt affords them a chance to soak up sunshine. His answer is going to be: "Get your sun tan by cutting the grass in your own back yard."

Good luck to the Memphis commissioner. If he can get the men into suitable costumes for golf maybe he will be brave enough to launch a few more crusades along the same lines.

Maybe he can get women to quit wearing short shorts in shopping centers. Maybe he can even talk them out of wearing hair curlers in public. Then perhaps he can do something about the beatnik getup.

With all the full length mirrors there are around it doesn't seem as though there would be as many outlandish, freaky looking people as there are wandering around in public places in most cities.

But since mirrors don't seem to make much of an impression on the fat men who insist on wearing Bermuda shorts without shirts and the middle-aged women who sashay around in shorts and bare midriffs, perhaps the local lawmakers should try to do something about the situation.

We talk a lot about billboards cluttering up our beautiful out-of-doors. But for eyesores they can't compare with some of the above-mentioned sights.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

TRIAL FOR HERESY — Senator Clark of Pennsylvania has wangled himself into an excruciatingly embarrassing position. He proposed to try Senator Byrd of Virginia for political heresy before their Democratic brethren, and discharge him as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

But he leaped before he looked, and fired before loading. This is always dangerous.

The row started because Virginia has a "right to work" law which the Los Angeles platform promised to exile from the statute books of 19 States, Virginia included. Byrd supports "right to work" and said so during the campaign.

Consequently, Clark, who is a flaming liberal and one of the Certified Thinkers of our time, decided to remove Byrd from his nest. This has always been something of a chore, but Clark oiled up his pea shooter, and lit it.

However, according to Arthur Krock of the New York Times, it turns out that Clark's superior officers, Kennedy and Johnson, had personally called on Byrd during the campaign and assured him that the new Administration would not include the repeal of "right to work" in its legislative program!

This caught Clark asleep at first base. The incident will, of course, make a lot more folks than Clark mad, particularly the leaders of the AFL-CIO. Clark and other Senators and Congressmen can, of course, try to get a "right to work" repealer through Congress, but without Administration support, it will likely be a third Battle of Bull Run.

Does Calcium Limit Corn Yields
Our soils and Crops Specialists generally tell us that when ever the soil pH gets under 5.5 that we can expect an increased yield of corn with the addition of calcium.

We tried that a year ago on a field near Windsor owned by Jim Gordon and farmed by J. W. (Jim) Carter. No yield differences were found that year. However, the field was back in corn last year. The part with adequate lime yielded 88 bushels or 17.3 per cent more than the unlimed part at 75 bushels.

I made soil recommendations on a corn field the other night that was high in organic matter (3.4 per cent), fairly adequate in phosphate and in good shape in potash. However, it was real low in calcium. The pH was down to 4.2 and it called for about six or seven tons of lime.

According to the organic matter test, this field should have been producing 45 bushels per acre. Actual yields the past two years were 35 bushels.

Bulletin File Revised

I have just revised the set of bulletins up in our available file on the wall of our office. We have a sign there that they are available and to ask the girl at the desk for a copy.

One of them disappeared the first day and we were at a loss as to which one was taken. After I went back and checked, the whole list of available bulletins and replaced it we made up a master list of those on the board. Now if someone takes one without asking the girl, it is not so much trouble to replace it. However, it is less trouble for the office receptionist if folks will ask her for bulletins so that she can pull them out of the file rather than having to replace those in the rack.

21 Bulletins Included

The list of bulletins now on display include Stop Mastitis, A New Look at Missouri's Dairying, Shelter for dairy Calves, Water Livestock the Automatic Way, Fattening 2 year old Steers, and Pork production in Missouri, Above Ground Gasoline Storage, Growing Good Crops of Oats in Missouri, Farmstead Rearrangement, Sheep Housing and equipment, Missouri System for Early Lambs, Missouri Fencing Laws, Silage, Feed of Excellence and How to Increase Your Farm Profits. How to Seed New Pastures, Balancing Swine Rations, Sewage Disposal System, and Growing Home Fruits, Water Systems for Farm Homes, Lime Your Soil for Better Crops, and Poisonous Spiders.

Watch for Brown Spider

With the number of brown recluse spiders on the prowl, we might say, it is a wonder that more folks are not bitten.

This brown recluse spider was isolated about two years ago. It is quite easily identified because of the appearance of a fiddle placed upside down on the top of its head with the staff running down the neck over the body.

This bulletin mentioned in the above list gives a good description of the spider.

During the past year I have found a number of them in my home and other folks have called frequently to report the same. During the past two months we have found two more in our home. One was in a closet we had cleaned out and the other was on an ironing board which was standing behind the water heater. Opal O'Brian, County Home Agent, found one recently in a dresser drawer.

They do frequent unused spaces and the bulletin recommends using care in putting on wearing apparel that has been hung unused for some time.

Missouri System For Early Lambs

The bulletin with the above title is included with the list on our bulletin board. It does calendarize practices that should be taken care of by months. The ten practices listed for January are given below.

1. Sort Ewes into groups according to lambing dates.
2. Give special attention to ewes which are near lambing.
3. Make use of good winter pasture.
4. Be present when ewes are lambing.
5. Disinfect navel cord of lambs with iodine at birth.

6. Use heat lamps for lambs.
7. Dock and castrate at 7-14 days of age.
8. Feed ewe liberally for milk production.
9. Vaccinate lambs for over-eating disease and sore mouth.
10. Check water supply.

Stop Mastitis

This bulletin starts out by saying what you can do now to stop Mastitis before it stops your profits. It says prevention is the key and lists 10 preventative management practices which are listed below.

1. Preventing udder injuries.
2. Selecting replacements from cow families that are relatively free of mastitis.
3. Raising your own replacements free from infection.
4. Attention to cow comfort and gentle handling of cows at all times.
5. Care in feeding.
6. Sanitation to prevent infection and spread to other animals.
7. Proper milking methods.
8. Dry cow care.
9. Fresh cow care.
10. Reducing stresses.

Above Ground Gasoline Storage

This bulletin gives some comparisons of the amount of gasoline that evaporates from outside tanks. It compares the red tank in the sun, a white or aluminum tank in the sun, a white tank in the shade and a white tank in the shade that is equipped with a pressure vacuum release vent. The bulletin shows a summer's evaporation losses per 1,000 gallons of gasoline stored in a 300 gallon container. Losses ranged from 30 gallons per 1,000 from a red tank in the sun to 4 gallons per 1,000 in a white tank in the shade with the tank equipped with a pressure vacuum release vent.

When the gasoline was stored in the 55 gallon drum the evaporation per 150 gallons ranged from 10 gallons in the red drum in the sun to two gallons in the white drum in the shade with the pressure vacuum release vent.

Winter evaporation losses per 150 gallons of gasoline stored in 55 gallon drums varied from 14 gallons in the red drum in the sun to 3½ gallons for the white drum in the shade. Winter gasoline is designed to evaporate faster for easy starting so losses are actually higher from evaporation in winter than summer. This drum was equipped with pressure vacuum release vent. This bulletin like the others is available at the Extension Office.

How To Seed New Pastures

This bulletin was the one that disappeared from the rack and we now have it replaced. One of the points emphasized is band seeding.

Band seeding they say, not only gives better stands of pasture grass and legumes but does it with one third less seed. Band seeding kits can be obtained to adopt your grain drill for seeding grass. The short metal tubes of the grass seeding attachments are replaced by long tubes. The lower ends of these tubes are fastened just behind and a little above the grain-fertilizer tube outlet so the grass legume seed will drop into the drill furrow directly above the band of drilled fertilizer.

This leaves about one and a half inches of soil separating the seed and the fertilizer. Experiments have shown that seedlings from seed placed directly over band and starter fertilizer grow more rapidly. They also have a better chance to survive adverse weather and weed competition than seedlings on either side of this band.

STRIP-TILLER SAVES TIME. This experimental strip-tiller was developed by Sam McKibben, University of Missouri agricultural engineer. It is designed to prepare a seedbed and plant row crops in one operation. The tool pushes the dry surface soil and trash away from the center of the row, and at the same time, pulls moist soil from the bottom of each side to the center of the row where the seed is planted. McKibben estimates the strip-tiller cuts working time by about one-half as compared to conventional planting methods.

New Corn Hybrids Suggested for Use

New varieties are added to the recommended list, or dropped from it, as a result of official action by the Annual Field Crops Conference held each year early in December. Participants in the conference include plant breeders, plant pathologists, and agronomists, from the Field Crops Department Staff, and in addition, members of other departments on the Ag campus who are interested in improved field crops varieties. Included also in the conference are members of the staff of the outlying research centers in the state. Additions to the 1960 list, or deletions from that list, are to follow. The new list for 1961 is at the printers and should be out sometime during the month of January.

Two new corn hybrids were added to the recommended list. These are Missouri 995, similar to Missouri 880, but somewhat higher in yield and recommended for the central and northern portion of the state. Missouri W6A is a newly recommended hybrid adapted to the southern part of Missouri and is similar to W-6 except that it has more resistance to northern corn leaf blight disease. Under a severe infection of leaf blight it would be expected to yield higher than Mo. W-6. Dropped from the recommended list of corn hybrids was the old hybrid, Ohio C-92.

There were no changes in the list of sorghum varieties used for silage and syrup production. No new sudangrass varieties were added. No new grain sorghum, or "milo," varieties were added to the list but all of the old open pollinated varieties of grain sorghums were dropped from the recommended list.

There were no additions to the list of soybean varieties but the Lincoln variety adapted to North Missouri was dropped from the list because it is being replaced rapidly by the new Shelby variety.

In Spring oats, Mo. 0-4635 was approved and the new variety will be named Nodaway. This variety has been high in yield in Missouri tests for the past few years. It is an early oat, with good straw strength and an excellent root system. It is resistant to current races of crown rust, and stem rust, and is resistant to smut. It has a plump, white kernel of high quality. Foundation seed is on hand for certified seed production in 1961.

A new soft wheat, Redcoat, developed in Indiana was added to the recommended list. This new wheat is outstanding for straw strength and has been the top yielding variety as an average for the past 5 years. It is resistant to leaf rust, mildew, and Hessian fly. Seed will be available on limited quantities for 1961 seedings.

No changes were made in the list of varieties for Barley and Rye. Saratoga bromegrass, and Sterling orchardgrass, were added to the list. Saratoga was developed at Cornell University from clonal material collected from the mid-west. In Missouri trials it has been slightly superior to other bromegrasses in general performance.

Annual Church Institute Set At University

The tenth annual Town and Country Church Institute will be held at the University of Missouri Jan. 30 through Feb. 1.

Sponsoring the Institute are the Missouri School of Religion, Missouri Council of Churches, University's Extension Division, and the College of Agriculture.

Turkey Day Planned at University

Plans for the annual Turkey Day program at the University of Missouri have been announced by E. M. Funk, chairman of the University of Missouri poultry department. Date of the program is Jan. 27.

A wide variety of topics will be discussed, Funk says. Included will be such topics as handling the ups and downs in turkey prices, condemnation, and new research findings in nutrition and management.

One feature of the program will be a report on activities of the National Turkey Federation in 1961, by its newly-elected president, Carl Stout, Richland, Mo.

Turkey production is one of Missouri's most rapidly growing industries, according to Funk. Production in the state in 1960 was up 20 per cent above 1959. This placed Missouri fifth among the states in numbers of turkey produced.

Some turkey leaders expect Missouri production to make another significant gain in 1961.

Vacuum Line May Trouble Your Milker

If your milking machine doesn't seem to be working well, it may pay you to check your vacuum line.

Partially clogged vacuum lines are a common cause of milking machine problems, according to University of Missouri extension dairy specialists. Lines tend to become clogged with a variety of materials during the normal routine of milking. Such materials include bedding, sealing in the line, milk, and dust from feed, bedding, and lime.

The specialists say vacuum lines should be cleaned out at least three or four times a year, plus any other time you know milk has been sucked into the line. It's also a good idea to have your vacuum gauge checked occasionally by your milker service man.

Besides partial clogging in the lines, the vacuum flow can also be reduced by swollen and porous milking machine rubber parts. Only good sound rubber parts should be used.

Hectic Day As Equipment Fails And House Burns

TOMPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—While fire equipment fizzled, the home of B. O. Jackson Jr. burned. The Jacksons were at church Sunday when their home caught fire. In order:

1. The siren used to notify volunteer firemen wouldn't work.
2. Trying to start the fire truck, someone flooded the engine and the battery ran down.
3. Firemen pushed the truck downhill, started it, arrived at the scene, hooked a hose to a nearby hydrant and turned it on.
4. Out came a mere trickle of water. The pipeline apparently was blocked.
5. By carrying water on two more trucks, firemen saved an apartment next door belonging to Jackson's mother.

Only a freezer was rescued from Jackson's home.

Study Violations Of Athletic Code

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Frank McGuire was close to the hot seat. Bud Wilkinson hoped to relinquish it. Tulsa and Southern California stood by ready to resume their places as members in good standing with the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

This was the situation today as the powerful 18-man NCAA council met to consider reported violations of its athletic code.

McGuire, North Carolina's successful (155 won, 47 lost) basketball coach said Sunday, "I'm innocent. The school is innocent. He replied to questions concerning the NCAA's investigation of the Tar Heels' basketball recruiting program.

Wilkinson, famed football coach and athletic director of the Oklahoma Sooners, said, "I am hopeful. You know it was a long time ago. But you never know."

He spoke of a football recruiting fund in existence at Oklahoma between 1952 and 1954. Its disclosure brought indefinite probation for the Sooners last year and barred Oklahoma from postseason bowls and NCAA-controlled television.

Wilkinson's "you never know" recalled the case of Southern Cal, scheduled to be removed from probation two years ago but handed an additional two-year penalty. This time the Trojans expect to be restored to good graces, as does Tulsa, which was hit with a one-year probation the same time Oklahoma was censured.

In the case of North Carolina, the NCAA had no comment. Executive Director Walt Byers finally admitted the investigation was in progress (it has been going on for a year and a half) after the Associated Press reported the appearance of McGuire and three other North Carolina representatives at Sunday's council meeting.

Byers did say, however, that he expected to make an announcement in the cases of Oklahoma, Tulsa and Southern Cal.

Precedent was broken when the NCAA said North Carolina was being investigated. It was expected to be shattered again if North Carolina is exonerated. Usually the NCAA makes no announcement when schools under investigation are found innocent, but the North Carolina case received far more than the usual publicity.

Chancellor William Aycock made North Carolina's presentation. He was accompanied by McGuire, Athletic Director Chuck Erickson and Dean Smith, assistant basketball coach.

It was the third time the university had gone before the council, and thus the third time the NCAA's committee on infractions, which does the preliminary work, had referred the case to the council for disposition.

North Carolina's appearance was voluntary. As McGuire put it: "We're innocent. That's why we came here—to prove it."

McGuire's team, stocked with Northern players, is ranked sixth nationally, has an 8-2 record and is hopeful of winning its first national championship since 1957.

Coaches' Association Plans Clinic In KC

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The American Football Coaches Association will hold a football clinic at Kansas City March 3-4.

It will be one of eight conducted in the nation by coaches Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma and Duffy Dougherty of Michigan State.

Others appearing on the panel in Kansas City will be Jack Mitchell of Kansas; Stan Sheriff of Iowa Teachers; and Al Woodard, of Lawrence, Kan., high school.

The other clinics will be in Dallas, Santa Monica, California; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Birmingham, Ala.; Springfield, Mass.; Harrisburg, Pa., and Raleigh, N. C.

Bradley In First Place In Valley

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Bradley Braves are firmly entrenched in first place in the Missouri Valley Conference basketball race thanks to a helping hand from the Wichita Shockers.

While Chet Walker and his Braves were beating Tulsa 76-66 for their fourth Valley victory last Saturday, Wichita was handing the St. Louis Billikens a 70-61 defeat in St. Louis. It was St. Louis' first conference defeat after two victories.

In beating St. Louis, Wichita moved into contention as a challenger for the conference title. The Shockers' 11-3 record for all games is second only to that of undefeated Bradley (12-0), rated No. 2 nationally last week.

Also with only one loss in conference games is Drake, which set a school scoring record in beating North Texas 108-73 last Thursday. Bradley will play Houston, a former Valley member, in Houston Thursday before taking on North Texas, which lost its ninth game against one victory—83-34 to Cincinnati last Saturday—in Denton.

Other games: Tonight—Drake at St. Louis. Thursday—Cincinnati at Wichita, Drake at Tulsa, St. Louis at North Texas. Saturday—Cincinnati at Tulsa, Drake at Wichita, St. Louis at Houston.

Walker scored 46 points against Tulsa to bring his average for 12 games to 26 points. He's averaged 24.5 in four conference starts.

Wichita had command at St. Louis after taking the lead 11-10 early in the game. The Shockers combined fine shot-blocking with balanced scoring led by sophomore Ernie Moore's 16 points.

Gus Guydon of Drake is second to Walker in scoring with a 20.7 average for 10 games. Marv Torrence of Drake, who has a 16.0 average for all games, is second to Walker in league games with a 23-point average.

Gene Estes of Tulsa leads the rebounders with a 13.8 per game rab. Torrence has 13.5 and Walker 13.0.

St. Louis continues as the defense leader, having held 12 foes to an average of 51.7 points.

A 'Tough Luck' Quarterback Is Traded Off

ST. LOUIS (AP)—King Hill, tough-luck St. Louis quarterback who has been saddled with injuries the past two seasons, was traded Saturday to the Philadelphia Eagles, champions of the National Football League.

Managing Director Walter Wolfner of the Cardinals said Hill was traded for a high draft choice to be selected by the Eagles at the league's next draft meeting and another player to be delivered next season.

The Eagles found themselves in dire need of a quarterback when passing master Norm Van Brocklin retired. With Van Brocklin out the Eagles were left with only Sonny Jurgensen at quarterback.

St. Louis Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy expressed confidence that Cardinal quarterbacking could be handled by John Roach and George Izo, a 1960 rookie from Notre Dame.

"It didn't look like King would have much opportunity here next year and giving him a chance to play elsewhere may be a great thing for him," said Ivy.

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—Gary Churchwell, 19, who pitched Joplin High to the state championship in 1959, has signed a professional baseball contract with the Kansas City Athletics.

Joe Bowman, A's scout, said Churchwell will report to the club's Pensacola, Fla., minor league base for spring training. He tentatively is ticketed for Stanford, Fla., of the Class D Florida State League.

The 5-11, 135 pound right-hander had a 17-3 record in three years at Joplin High.

He is the second member of the '59 Joplin championship team to sign with the A's. The other was centerfielder Don Marrs.

John Awaits New Crack At Russians

BOSTON (AP) — John Thomas, clicking off those seven-foot high jumps again, eagerly awaits another crack at the Soviets and may get it sooner than he hoped.

In fact the Soviets are looking for the Boston University junior — via trans Atlantic telephone from Moscow.

The story of this hunt from 4,600 miles away came out today following Thomas 50th and 51st leaps of seven feet or more in less than two years.

Thomas cleared 7-1/2 on the second try, 7-1/2 on the first, then missed three efforts to tie his indoor mark of 7-2-1/2 in a dual meet at Dartmouth Saturday. Prior to that he won a heat and the finals in the 45-yard high hurdles.

Thomas disclosed that Moscow has been placing calls twice daily to him for a week but so far the Soviets haven't made connections. The calls (it is seven hours later in Moscow) come before John arrives at school or while he is in class.

The AAU is trying to get Soviet high jumpers to the United States for some of the winter meets. Is the call a challenge from the Reds? An invitation for Thomas to compete in the Soviet Union? Or just another Soviet publication delving into the secrets of Thomas consistency?

"I don't know, but when I finally get to talk to them I'm going to do my best to see if they won't send over some jumpers for the indoor meets," Thomas says.

John's only defeat since he entered college cost him the Olympic gold medal. After clearing 7-4, Thomas missed 7-1 which was made by the Soviet pair of Robert Shavlakadze and Valeriy Brumel.

'Schoolboy' Rowe Dies Of Attack

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Schoolboy Rowe, the big, tough major league pitcher great of the 1930s, died Sunday night at his home here after suffering a heart attack.

Baseball records listed his age as 48, but his family said "Schoolboy," as the players used to call him, was really 51.

Rowe, whose real name was Lynwood Thomas, was a scout for the Detroit Tigers. His major league career included nine seasons with Detroit, five with the Philadelphia Phillies, and one with Brooklyn.

He previously had served as a coach on the Tigers staff and managed in the Detroit farm system.

Rowe was born in Waco, Tex., but grew up in El Dorado, and it was here he got the nickname Schoolboy. As a high school kid, he once pitched against and beat one of his teachers in a semi-pro game.

The headline in the El Dorado Daily News the next morning read, "Schoolboy beats teacher."

Rowe's 15 seasons in the majors saw him in one All-Star game (1936) and three World Series. His lifetime record in the big leagues was 158 victories, 101 defeats. His greatest year was 1934, when as a Tiger he won 24 games and lost 8. He was a 19-game winner in each of the next two seasons.

He is tied for the American League record for most consecutive games won in one season—16. They came in 1934.

In one game of the 1934 World Series against the St. Louis Cardinals, Rowe retired 22 consecutive batters. But he also tied an unenviable series record—for most

Hall of Fame For Outstanding Baseball Fans

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Now it's a hall of fame for baseball fans. Ray Dumont, director of the National Baseball Fans' Club, announced Saturday the organization will make an annual selection of the nation's No. 1 baseball fan.

He said each of the state NBFC directors will make nominations for the honor and a committee will select the top fan.

The honored individual, Dumont said, will receive tickets for a full season to American and National league games, to the minor league park of his choice and to all tournaments of the National Baseball Congress, which Dumont heads.

A plaque, designating the individual as the top fan of the year, will be placed in the city hall of the community where the recipient lives. A permanent Hall of Fame plaque listing all those honored will be forwarded to the Baseball Hall of Fame, Cooperstown, N. Y.

defects. 5. He won two.

His professional career began in 1932 with Beaumont in the Texas League. In 1933 he went up to Detroit and stayed, except for 1938 in Beaumont, until 1942 when he was traded to Brooklyn. He wound up the 1942 season in Montreal, then went to the Phillies where he completed his major league career in 1949.

Rowe retired from the active ranks in 1951 after managing Williamsport in the Eastern League and pitching 16 games for the seventh-place club.

Only Top-ranked Ohio State Apt to Survive Coming Week

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Road games, the great equalizer in college basketball, could contrive to chop the surviving handful of major unbeaten to a single digit this week.

Only top-ranked Ohio State, the defending NCAA champion, seems safe from a testing week's program that should indicate the strength of a perfect record list that includes Bradley, Louisville, DePaul and Vanderbilt.

The Buckeyes, who rolled to their 10th straight victory this season and 15th in a row, 91-65 over Illinois in their Big Ten opener Saturday, play small college power Evansville at Columbus tonight before traveling to sub-par Northwestern Saturday.

Something has to give Saturday when Louisville (13-0) and DePaul (9-0) meet at Chicago. First, DePaul has a game at Ohio U. at Athens on Tuesday.

Bradley's test comes Thursday at Houston—the last team to beat the Braves (12-0) in their two-season rush to an 18-game winning streak. Vanderbilt (10-0) this season puts its 12-game winning streak on the line against always-tough Kentucky at home tonight before meeting Mississippi State on the road Saturday. Mississippi State chopped the unbeaten list down to the Fidgety Five last Saturday with a 56-48 upset of 10th-ranked Auburn, which had won 15 in a row and had captured 36 straight home games.

Unranked DePaul, well-balanced with an attack led by 5-foot-9 Howie Carl, got past a tough road game with Dayton, 75-64, as all five starters hit double figures and Carl cashed 24. Fourth-ranked Louisville, with husky John Turner scoring 31 points, blitzed Marquette at Milwaukee, 84-63, and Vanderbilt handed Tennessee its first home court defeat of the season, 68-66.

All America Jerry Lucas had 35 points in Ohio State's romp over Illinois, and second-ranked Bradley kept rolling at the top of the Missouri Valley Conference, defeating Tulsa 76-66 as 6-foot-6 Chet Walker scored 46 points.

Third-ranked St. Bonaventure (11-1) got 32 points from soph star Fred Crawford and 23 from Tom Smith in a 89-78 victory over Duquesne; sixth-ranked North Carolina (8-2) went on a 9-1 burst in the last three minutes and beat Notre Dame 73-71 on Jim Hudock's

Ditka Voted As Outstanding East Lineman

HONOLULU (AP)—They voted Mike Ditka as the outstanding lineman in the East's 14-7 Hula Bowl victory over the West Sunday, but East Coach Joe Kuharich of Notre Dame rates the Pittsburgh all-America end much higher than that.

"Ditka proved that he is one of the great pro prospects of the current college seniors," Kuharich exclaimed after the upset before a crowd of 17,017.

"He can go either way. His punting was terrific and his defensive play was outstanding. I had to use him both ways when Mickey (Mangham of Louisiana State) was hurt early in the game."

Ditka caught an 11-yard touchdown pass from Georgia's Francis Tarkenton in the fourth quarter to provide the East's margin of victory. The West had led 7-6 going into the last period.

basket at the buzzer; seventh-ranked Iowa (9-1) toyed with Minnesota 71-46; Duke, No. 8, was triggered by sophomore Art Heymans 27 points and 16 rebounds in an 81-67 rout of North Carolina State for its 11th in 12 games; and ninth-ranked UCLA avenged Fridays loss to Washington with a 62-58 decision over the Huskies.

Kansas State (10-2), Southern California (10-2) and Wichita (11-3) made impressive bids for places among the top ten. K-State, with Ced Price scoring 20 points, opened its Big Eight season with a 69-58 whipping of Oklahoma State. Southern California, currently topping the Big Five race, completed a two-night, two-game sweep of California, 65-57, Saturday, and Wichita handed strong St. Louis its first Missouri Valley Conference loss, 70-61.

Inauguration Address Of Gov. John Dalton

(Editor's Note: The following is the inaugural address of Gov. John M. Dalton which was delivered during the inauguration ceremonies at the State Capitol in Jefferson City at noon Monday.)

"Governor Blair, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Dalton, members of the General Assembly, Honorary Colonels, elected colleagues, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is with a deep sense of pride and satisfaction that I stand before you as the governor of the great State of Missouri.

"I am fully aware of the tremendous responsibilities attendant to that position. I am deeply grateful to those who expressed their confidence in me at the recent general election, and I respectfully request your prayers, your patience and your continuing support and cooperation.

"Missouri is a rich state, in both natural resources and those historical traditions that provide us with our fine heritage. We can be justly proud of our early settlers, those courageous men and women who—with gun and plow—brought civilization to a wilderness. We can also take pride in the role Missourians played in pushing the western frontier to the shores of the Pacific Ocean.

"The frontiers that challenged our forebears are no longer a fact, but there are new challenges that face us today. It is our responsibility, as citizens of this state, to meet those challenges in the spirit that made it possible to create a modern state from a virgin wilderness. And while we do not have to contend with the physical hardships that confronted the pioneers, the state's present problems will require grave and intelligent consideration.

"I have great respect for the ability and integrity of the members of the Missouri General Assembly. I would like to take this opportunity to express my personal regards to them and to the other dedicated officials and employees of our state for their outstanding loyalty and devotion to responsibility.

"I will make, within a few days, detailed and specific recommendations to the General Assembly on programs for the general advancement of our state. The first of these messages will be delivered on Wednesday, Jan. 11, and will deal with some of Missouri's key problems. I intend, at that time, to outline those problems and to recommend legislation for their correction.

"Missouri has made progress in recent years in the important area of economic development, but there remains a great deal to be done if Missourians are to reap the benefits of the potential that is ours. The administration—by sponsoring sound legislation—can substantially assist this development by providing a suitable climate for industrialization and the other necessities of a vigorous economy.

"The state's traffic fatality rate exceeds more than a thousand persons each year. This shameful waste of human life must be abated, and measures to reverse the situation will be introduced. The recommendations in the field of highway safety will relate principally to driver control, penalties for drunken driving, and speed laws.

"Missouri's jury-built tax structure requires careful examination and treatment. I will discuss this matter fully in messages to the General Assembly.

"The critical needs of education at all levels will also be discussed and solutions will be proposed. The impact of soaring enrollments and inadequate salaries and financing cannot be ignored.

"There is also the need for a formal ethical code for the officials of state government. I have faith in the honesty and integrity of our present officials and I know they would welcome delineation and clarification of proper ethical standards. We must insure that penalties are established against the possibility of unfaithful and unscrupulous behavior in office because conflict of interests cannot be tolerated at any level of government.

"High ethical standards will be observed in all official acts during the forthcoming administration. Missouri's regulatory bodies and all officials will be concerned only with the public welfare and the public interest. You may rest assured that officials will not be permitted to accept gifts, gratuities or favors that will compromise their ability to render honest and equitable decisions. Special interest groups will receive courtesy and considerate attention, but that courtesy and attention will only be proportionate to their rights. State officials will not yield to pressure tactics in the granting of undeserved favors or unfair advantages.

"I shall, in subsequent messages, take up important problems in the area of mental health. Missouri has lagged behind 47 other states in its mental health effort, but we have finally taken the initial steps toward rectifying this deplorable situation. Mis-sourians are now aware of the problem and I feel certain that a strong spirit of cooperation will prevail as we move to create a modern mental health program.

"Future messages will also deal with new requirements in health and welfare, agriculture and marketing, conservation, urban areas, the general operation of state government, and other pressing issues.

"I will present, in my second message, the budget, and recommendations for financing that budget. Missouri is a low tax state, ranking 45th in the nation in the per capita tax. However, low taxes do not necessarily insure health, happiness and prosperity to our citizens.

"Adequate financing is a fundamental requirement of proper and necessary state services and there are several measures that must be taken to assure this objective. We will need full and efficient collection of existing tax levies, and we will have to thoroughly implement present laws to secure equitable enforcement of tax regulations. We will require additional income if we are to make necessary expansions in our services, and I strongly feel that these increases should be levied on non-essentials and not on the necessities of life.

"Highway construction in Missouri has been accomplished at a record pace in recent years, but the enormous increase in automobile ownership over the state has neutralized a good deal of this progress. We will have to take steps to accommodate the large traffic increases on our roads and highways, and I will deal with these problems in a third message to the General Assembly.

"I promised the people of Missouri, when I assumed the office of attorney general eight years ago, that I would render honest, efficient, economical and courteous service. Today, as I enter on my term as governor, I renew that pledge.

"I also call upon all officials and employees to continue their attention to duty in order that our tax dollars shall be wisely spent and faithfully used. Missouri, if it is to attract new residents and industry, must continue to provide good government, vigorous and impartial law enforcement, and fair treatment for all.

"State funds must and will be handled with the utmost propriety. State payrolls should be a matter of public record, and all monies due the state—as required by the Constitution—should be paid immediately into the state treasury. The laws of Missouri call for competitive bidding on all purchases for the state, and this requirement must be rigidly observed. This administration will set an example of obedience to the law, and will consistently demonstrate sound regard for the welfare of the public.

"We are mindful of the fact that our election to office was on partisan tickets, but we are also fully aware that we are the elect representatives of all the people. I believe that partisan politics is an essential ingredient in the democratic governmental process, but I also realize that the public interest transcends all partisan considerations. May we keep this fact uppermost in our minds as we—with the faith, confidence, understanding and encouragement of all Missourians—strive to create a better life for ourselves, our children and our fellow citizens."

First Show Disappoints This Critic

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The first episode of the new NBC comedy series starring Nanette Fabray on Friday was dedicated to setting the scene for adventures to come.

We picked up the McGoverns, played by Nanette and co-star Wendell Corey, immediately after their marriage and en route to Los Angeles and his two children. Well, now we've met the family and maybe things will start to pick up. However, the first show was a disappointment. It was played far too broadly by all concerned, and was full of pretty tired situations and dialogue. Nanette Fabray is a great comedienne and seems wasted in this trifle.

There was another premiere over the weekend—the season's first young people's concert on CBS Sunday afternoon. The music by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra was delightful. Conductor Leonard Bernstein, enunciating carefully and speaking with such stark simplicity it was almost patronizing, explained about overtures. I suppose the music lectures are what give this series an excuse for the music, but I did find teacher a bit long-winded and wished for more Philharmonic and less Bernstein.

Notice how many adventure shows this season have Florida locales? Three—"Michael Shayne," "Surfside Six," "Tallahassee 7000" (a syndicated, not network series). And all of them made in Hollywood California.

With Cuba flaring up in the headlines, the American Heritage producers probably wish they'd picked the San Juan Hill period of Theodore Roosevelt's life to explore in next Friday's NBC special, "The Invincible Teddy," instead of his entrance into politics.

John Daly will be a member of Jack Benny's cast Jan. 15 when the program honors the 26th anniversary of announcer Don Wilson's association with the Benny program. The current issue of "The National Parent-Teacher," the P-T-A magazine, beams approvingly upon the Dinah Shore Show, "National Velvet," and "Wagon Train," but looks daggers at "True Story," a daytime soap.

Recommended tonight: "Andy Griffith Show," CBS, 9:30-10 (EST)—one of the season's better comedy series.

No Mistake Now, He's in the Army

DETROIT (AP)—The Army has Brian Stott, 10 years after its first try.

Back in 1951 Brian received his greetings. Since he was only 13 years old, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stott, asked the Army to reconsider.

Someone else, it was found, had registered for the draft under Brian's name and address.

Brian, now 22, recently got another letter from Uncle Sam. There was no mistake this time. He left Saturday night for Ft. Knox, Ky.

Mayor Gets A Ticket

HOBBS, N. M. (AP)—Mayor W. Yeakum parked his car in front of city hall with extra care. He even checked to make sure he was within the white parking lines.

Minutes later he had a ticket—for parking diagonally in a parallel parking zone.

NEW "STINGER" ON CENTURY-OLD PLAN — A Gatling gun with six revolving barrels protrudes from the tail of a new B52H global jet bomber which is capable of carrying nuclear missiles and bombs to distant targets. This Gatling can throw up an almost solid screen of 20mm shells, firing 4,000 times a minute. The Gatling gun was the first rapid fire weapon in the Civil War nearly a century ago. The B52H with dummy Skybolt ballistic missiles attached to the wings was unveiled at Wichita, Kan., this week. (AP Wirephoto)

Speak On Mental Health

Two Doctors On Program At BPW Dinner Meeting

Guest speakers at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday night at Bothwell Hotel were Dr. Paul L. Barone, M. D., superintendent of the State Hospital, Nevada, Mo., and Gerald Pridoux, chief clinical psychologist of the hospital.

The speakers explained the basic purposes of the Missouri State Mental Hospitals and of their administrators in serving the people of Missouri.

Fright and shame of the mentally ill are the greatest barriers to the treatment of those patients. They pointed out that all individuals believe themselves to be mentally normal, but there are no perfectly normal persons, since everyone has all types of idiosyncracies which make them different from others and it is the extent and degree of these idiosyncracies which cause mental illness.

Fifty per cent of the hospital beds are occupied by the mentally ill, which is the number one health problem in America. At least one out of ten people will be in a mental hospital during his life-time and one out of five has some psychiatric treatment. When people are physically ill they go to a doctor but they do not think of seeking aid when they are emotionally ill.

Mr. Pridoux stated that "we are now as a nation in a situation not to our liking. We would like to be a world leader in the treatment of mental health in this Golden Age of Psychiatry," but we are near the bottom of the list of countries who have progressed in the development of ways and means to treat and cure mental diseases. Apathy on the part of the public held back advancement and there are 15,000 patients in mental hospitals in Missouri with major mental disturbances who cannot get along in society without help and guidance.

Mental illness, he pointed out, does not strike suddenly and without warning, but takes a long time to develop and if the therapist receives the patient soon enough he can be helped or even cured. The public attitude toward this is slowly improving, he said.

Complexities of the mental process is another cause of not understanding the mentally disturbed person. Every thought and situation of a life time is stored in the human brain, some important, some not. Some are good situations but some are bad and those give a feeling of guilt or insecurity and if these overbalance the good the person becomes unable to adjust himself, becomes emotionally upset and a mental illness is born. Idiosyncracies vary and if the individual does not fit well into his role in life he becomes frustrated, unhappy and sensitive, seeks escape in mental delusions and needs help and treatment, it was pointed out.

Dr. Barone brought out that Dr. Addison Duval's 10 year mental health program for Missouri is well under way to provide treatment for mentally ill. Five mental hospitals in Missouri, together with three hospitals and schools for retarded children are very overcrowded, he said, with long waiting lists, however, the turn-over is much faster than in years prior to discovery of the use of drugs and tranquilizers.

Dr. Duval's plan has achieved much to increase the professional staffs of the hospitals to solve over-crowding, provide special hospital care for retarded children, alcoholics and criminally insane. There is still much to be done and Dr. Barone called for an enlistment of aid to promote adequate appropriations to achieve the goal. It is Dr. Duval's aim to prevent and cure mental diseases in the state rather than place patients in custodial care and Missouri is learning that the correct approach to the problem is well on its way.

The program was presented by the Health and Safety committee of which Mrs. Glenna Danforth is chairman.

Mrs. Marguerite Scott, president, presided over the meeting, and invocation was given by the chaplain, Miss Erna Ann McClure.

Mrs. Dorothy Owens led the singing with Miss Doris Stott at the piano. Special music was a piano solo by Donna Nave.

Guests introduced were: Mrs. Mary Lauen, Mrs. Grace Mennessen, Shelby Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walter, Mrs. E. Glenn Lewis, Mrs. Fern Danley, Mrs. Sarah McMurdo, Mrs. Mary Ellen Jackson, Mrs. Velma Curtis, Mrs. Lucille Bechtel, Mrs. Esther Berkstresser, Mrs. Thomas Shaffer and Mrs. A. A. Taylor, Jr. Also present was the class of practical nurses at Bothwell Hospital.

No Business Like That In An Art-house

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There's no business like the art-house business.

For proof, you only have to look at the theater pages of a Los Angeles newspaper. You'll see ads for films made all over the world. Some days, the foreign films occupy as much space as the domestic ones.

This reflects the growing market for small theaters that show foreign films and the artier U.S. variety. The Hollywood Reporter recently counted their number at 600 in this country, a 100 per cent increase in five years. They have risen from 10 to 25 in Los Angeles in that time.

The reason? It's tied up with the cultural explosion this country is undergoing. You see it in the coffee houses, in the sales of records of offbeat comics, in mass magazines that print avant garde writers once relegated to literary quarterlies.

I checked up on the art-house trend during my year-end refresher (where else does a movie reporter go on vacation but to the movies?). The local theater was playing "Hiroshima Mon Amour" and an Ingrid Bergman film, so I went.

My first impression was shock. Admission was always 60 cents when the house played American films. Now it was $1.49. I gulped, paid and went in. A score of patrons ("adults only") waited patiently for the first show. Soon there were 300, which any neighborhood house would welcome on a week night.

"Hiroshima" proved to be weird surrealist and sometimes profoundly moving, a mixture of entwined naked torsos and stark footage of atomic horror. During intermission I sought out the manager to ask "How's business?"

"Business is very good," he said, "much better than when I tried to play to the kid trade, and none of the headaches. No, I don't sell as much popcorn, but I don't have the overhead, either. I used to need three people to handle the candy counter. Now I use one. People are tired of those over-stuffed, unrealistic Hollywood pictures. They want to see life as it is. That's what the foreign film makers give them."

"Dirty pictures? Listen, there is sex all around us. That's life; you can't get away from it. We don't get many squawks on the admission charge. People will pay for what they want to see. If they don't want to see it, they won't pay a dime."

Soils, Crops Conference Set Feb. 11

Pettis County's annual Soils and Crops conference will be held at Smith-Cotton cafeteria Saturday, Feb. 11, according to Robert Brauer, chairman of the conference.

Other members of the committee, Leroy Ryan, Paul (Jack) Stephens, Cloyce Wilson, Jack Curran and Cyrus Charles, met with county agent, Merle Vaughan, Thursday to plan the 37th annual conference for the county.

The committee set "Increasing efficiency in feed production" as the conference's theme. The group plans to ask local seed and fertilizer dealers to pay the $40 rent on the cafeteria for the meeting. This practice was started last year with most of the rent being raised that way.

A number of reports were planned for the conference which opens at 10 a.m. that day with a motion picture.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes...Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription. Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms. This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be held—without prescription—in tiny tablets called Primatene®.

Primatene opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves taut nervous tension. All this without taking painful injections. The secret—Primatene combines 8 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose. So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms. Primatene only 98¢, at any drug store.
